

Meet the facilitator

John Burns, FFIA

For over two decades John has been leading fundraising teams at Amnesty International Australia, Médecins Sans Frontières Australia, Bush Heritage Australia and most recently Plan International Australia. At each organisation he has successfully built sustainable income growth across multiple streams of income. He has a breadth of experience mentoring fundraising managers to become leaders, and convincing Boards to empower their organisations to test, learn and optimise their strategies. John is a recognisable leader and contributor to many cross-sector collaborations including Emergency Action Alliance, Public Fundraising Regulatory Association and The Benchmarking Project.
