

Georgia McIntosh

Communications Whiz

BePartnerReady.com®

Georgia is Co-Founder of BePartnerReady.com®, a training program that upskills non-profits & social enterprises in Australia and NZ, in how to become ready for – and win - corporate partnerships. She is also the Founder of communications firm Roger That, specialising in digital marketing and online learning for purpose-driven organisations and social enterprises.

Georgia is a typical Millennial, juggling numerous projects in work and life, all with an infectious smile and can-do attitude. She built the comprehensive online training program BePartnerReady.com® which includes 7 Module booklets, 10+ guides and 26+ videos and Templates. As well as co-hosting the program, she also manages BePartnerReady.com's digital marketing and social media platforms. Through this program she's provided direct advice and guidance to Heart Foundation, Lifeline, Stroke Foundation, Frontier Services, Hobart City Mission, Eden in Oz & NZ, Soundfair, QIMR, Sydney Children's Hospital Foundation and Climate Council. Georgia has a Bachelors in Professional Communication and a Masters of International Development.

Georgia loves sharing her knowledge with changemakers and has recently spoken on the FINZ and F&P Big 4 stages, as well as running online webinars for F&P & FIA.

In addition to spreading joy & optimism wherever she goes, Georgia loves to indulge her thirst for adventure with recent travels to Japan, India and Morocco. She loves trying new food, even if what's on offer is a giant tarantula in Cambodia. When at home she loves to walk her beautiful puppy Indie along the beach of her new home in Crescent Head, NSW.

She's a documentary die-hard, loves Gardening Australia, has a mad crush on Yvon Chouinard (Patagonia Founder), and she's known by her friends as 'G'. Linked in page <https://www.linkedin.com/in/georgia-mcintosh-8b4213b9/>
