Alexis Escavy

Alexis was born in Nice, in France's French Riviera in the mid 80s. He moved to Australia at 25 to start a PhD in Chemistry at Sydney University developing cancer vaccines. But instead, after a few months Down Under, learning about the state of our forests and rivers, he decided to focus his time and energy on protecting our precious environment. After spending 8 years working for a face to face and telemarketing fundraising agency raising awareness and money for over 25 different NGOs, Alexis started as Greenpeace Australia Pacific's Gifts in Wills Manager in September 2018.

Alexis has delivered 11 conferences, workshops and webinar presentations covering topics such as Digital and Tele fundraising for Gifts in Wills, securing board investment or working with Volunteers. He has also been a mentor for FIA for the last 8 years and in 2023 he joined the advisory committee for Include a Charity. More recently, Alexis was voted 2024 Mover and Shaker by the Fundraising and Philanthropy magazine, achieving recognition by his peer for his passion, commitment and creative thinking.
